

CENT'L METHODIST CHURCH HAS PRAISE FOR REV. WALSTON AND ELDER HAWKINS

RESOLUTIONS OFFERED ON EVE OF DEPARTURE ARE UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED SUNDAY

PASTORATE A GREAT SUCCESS

CHURCH HAS CONTRIBUTED MORE THAN $20,000 TO ALL CAUSES DURING FOUR YEARS.

Resolutions praising Rev. R. I. Walston, pastor of the Central Methodist church of Albany, and Rev. Ira F. Hawkins, presiding elder of the Decatur district, were unanimously adopted Sunday morning by the congregation of the Central church.

The resolutions, which expressed highest praise for the work of the two distinguished Methodist leaders, were offered by A. G. Patterson, a prominent layman of the church just after Mr. Walston had preached his farewell sermon. Both ministers have served four years in the local field and will have to be given new stations under the rules of Methodism at the annual conference which meets this week in Bessemer.

Mr. Walston was too overcome by the resolutions to express more than a few words of thanks. In his sermon he reviewed briefly the work of the past four years. The church has raised more than $6,000 during the present year. In the last four years the congregation has raised more than $20,000 and has paid off a church debt of $3,000.

The resolutions which were adopted yesterday are as follows:

Church's Great Progress.

"Whereas, Rev. I. H. Hawkins, as presiding elder of the Decatur district, and Rev. R. I. Walston, the beloved pastor of the Central Methodist church of Albany, have each served out their quadrenniums in their respective stations, and under the rules and regulations of our church must be sent to new fields of labor, and

"Whereas, under the wise and faithful leadership of Brother Hawkins as presiding elder the Decatur district has made splendid progress and the cause of Methodism has been materially advanced during the quadrennium just closed; and

"Whereas, we as a church and a people have been served so faithfully, devotedly and well by our devoted pastor, under whose splendid leadership the Central M. E. church has made greater progress than at any other time in its history, under whose pastorate our people have been greatly edified and strengthened in the holy faith; Therefore be it

Resolved, First, that it is with much regret that we give up these two faithful men of God, whose Christ-like lives and faithful ministry have meant so much to us during these four years.

"Second, that we as a congregation and people will follow each of them to their new fields of labor with our prayers, and wish for each of them yet many years more of successful ministry in the kingdom of our blessed Lord and Master.

Well Qualified Ministers.

"Third, that we express to Bishop Denny and his cabinet the very high estimate, based upon service rendered, and results achieved, in which we hold these two men of God, and urgently recommend that in assigning them to new fields of labor they may be sent where their labors will result in greatest good to the cause of Jesus Christ and where their efforts will be appreciated and properly rewarded by the people whom they serve. We believe there are no places in the North Alabama conference or in Southern Methodism which these two men are not qualified to hold to the credit of themselves and the success of the church.

"Fourth, that a copy of this resolution be published in our local papers and a copy forwarded to Bishop Denny."

The above resolutions were also authorized and adopted by the fourth quarterly conference of Central M. E. church of Albany, and by the board of stewards.

WILSON HAS CLOSE MARGIN AS RACE SWINGS INTO THE STRETCH FOR HOME

REPUBLICANS AND DEMOCRATS BOTH ADMIT THAT PRESIDENT IS IN THE LEAD.

G. O. P. HOPES TO OVERCOME

HUGHES MANAGERS MAKE FINAL DRIVE WITH VIEW OF CHANGING THE DRIFT.

(International News Service.)
(BY JOHN EDWIN NEVIN.)

Washington, Oct. 30.—The last big drive of the 1916 national political campaign was started today.

For the next six days the "last line" trenches of the dominant political parties will be subjected to record breaking oratorical bombardment. Then will follow the lull while the majority of the spell binders are retreating back home to vote and work on election day.

One week and a day before the election President Wilson holds a slight advantage in the canvass, according to confidential advisers of both party managers. The republican leaders today, however, were extremely confident that the swing to the president has already been checked and all that they need to do now is to regain ground that is debatable.

The republican national committee in New York and the congressional committee here are co-operating everywhere. Arrangements were made today to get the statement made by Hughes last night outlining his policies if elected, into the hands of every voter in every doubtful state.

The democratic leaders will follow Mr. Hughes' campaign very closely during the next few days and have arranged to swing strong speakers along the territory covered by him to reply to his arguments. Meanwhile the democratic managers remain supremely confident.

FIND DEFECTS IN COME-BACK LAW

RETALIATORY ACT PROBABLY NEVER BE ENFORCED IN ITS PRESENT FORM.

(International News Service.)

Washington, Oct. 30.—The powers of retaliation placed in President Wilson's hands to fight oppression of American overseas commerce by foreign governments will never be employed in present form.

That is the belief of the state department officials today, following completion of a careful investigation of the subject begun shortly after congress passed the retaliatory legislation.

When congress reconvenes, however, new legislation of this character is expected to be passed.

The latest action of the British government in refusing to comply with the American government's demand that the blacklist of American business firms be vacated has not changed the belief in official circles that there will be no retaliation. A definite policy, however, would not be made officially known until after the president returns here just after election.

Submarine Controversy Again Opened By Shelling of Americans In Life-Boats After Leaving Ship

State Department Asks German Government For Full Details of Reported Violation of International Law By Submarine in Rowanmore Incident

(International News Service.)

Washington, Oct. 30.—The German submarine warfare brought up a serious situation this afternoon for the first time since the sinking of the Sussex became a closed incident.

A reopening of the entire submarine controversy between the United States and Germany is threatened. Secretary of State Lansing this afternoon took steps to obtain an explanation from the German government of the shelling by a submarine of the Furness freighter Rowanmore, with Americans on board on Oct. 26. Cables were forwarded to the American embassy in Berlin to Ambassador Page in London asking "all available information" concerning the attack.

The official report from Consul Frost at Queenstown stated the crew of the Rowanmore, including seven Americans, were shelled when in life-boats after they had surrendered the freighter and cleared from her. No effort was made in official circles this afternoon to view the report with anything except apprehension. The facts if not disproved show a clear violation of international law as interpreted by this government in the past.

Secretary Lansing declined to give an opinion based on Consul Frost's report. Officials said no decision would be formed until complete official information had been received from the German and the British governments.

The sinking of the British steamer Marina with American members of her crew is not causing uneasiness, because the vessel was in the transport service of the British government. This government has held that submarines are within their rights in sinking enemy transports without warning and that Americans shipping on such vessels go at their own peril.

AMERICAN CONSUL SAYS WAS WITHOUT WARNING.

(International News Service.)
Washington, Oct. 30.—American Consul Frost at Queenstown, reported to the state department today that the British steamer Marina, reported to have been sunk by a submarine without warning, was in the transport service of the British government. He said that there were Americans supposed to be among the crew. The vessel being a transport, this government will probably take no action.

55 AMERICANS WERE ABOARD THE MARINA.

(International News Service.)

Newport, Oct. 30.—There were 55 American horse tenders upon the British freighter Marina when she left here for Glasgow, according to agents of her owners. It is understood here, however, that the ship was on her return voyage when sunk.

(International News Service.)
London, Oct. 30.—The British steamship Marina, 5,304 tons, has been sunk off the Irish coast by a German submarine. It is reported that there were Americans on board and only 34 members of her crew of 104 have been landed, according to a dispatch from Queenstown. Survivors declare that the ship was not warned.

The spot where the Marina was torpedoed is not far from the scene of the attack upon the Cunard liner Lusitania.

The Marina hailed from Glasgow. The Americans reported on the vessel are said to be seamen.

100 HORSES BURNED WHEN FIRE IS STARTED BY A CIGARETTE

Ringling Bros. Suffer Big Loss at Huntsville. Many Equines Left Behind

Huntsville, Ala., Oct. 30.—(Special.) Fire thought to have originated from a carelessly dropped cigarette, burned one of the big tents of Ringling Bros. circus here Saturday afternoon, causing the death of 49 horses and the injury of half a hundred others. Thirty-seven of the horses were burned to death, 12 were shot, and some of the others that were injured will die. Fifty horses were left behind when the circus moved on to Clarksdale, Miss., awaiting hospital cars in which they can be moved.

The fire occurred just prior to the afternoon performance, which was slightly delayed on this account. The oiled top of the tent flared up and burned fiercely, and the horses, tethered within, were unable to escape. A few were removed by the two attendants in charge, but most of these dashed back into the flames. The horses were big Clydes and Percherons used for draft purposes, and were valued at about $350 each.

REXALL STRAW VOTE SHOWS WOODY AND CHARLEY CLOSE

The straw vote now being taken by the 8,000 Rexall stores in the United States shows Wilson and Hughes to be neck and neck in the race for the presidency which will end next Tuesday at the polls.

According to announcement today by the two local Rexall stores, the Owl Drug Company of Bank street, and the Preuit-Dillehay Drug Company of Second avenue, the democrats have 265 electoral votes, while the republicans have 266. The latter is enough to elect, 266 being a majority in the electoral college. Returns in this straw vote will be received here each day this week.

SENATOR WEBB AT R. R. Y. M. C. A.

NOTED EDUCATOR GIVES THE CORRECT MEASUREMENTS OF A MAN.

JOHN PATTERSON PRESIDES

INTRODUCTORY SPEECH DELIVERED BY MAYOR E. C. PAYNE OF ALBANY.

Senator W. R. Webb's address at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon was not only a revelation of sublime truths, but of the man and his methods. He spoke on "Measure of Value." The venerable educator used the generalship of the school room to launch his attack against darkened understandings as regards the true measure of value. The senator came to his main point by the process of elimination, showing that all but one of the measures of value are unreliable and inaccurate.

At first he pointed out what a struggle and an effort it had been for men to establish units of value in science and in business; then how men had made other men measures of character value, and how hero-men had shown up to be faulty under close

ROUMANIAN SEAT OF GOVERNMENT IS MOVED TO JASSY

Dispatch Says That King Ferdinand Was Disturbed by Dropping of Bombs.

RUSSO-ROUMANIAN RESISTANCE STIFFENS

Austro-German Forces Compelled to Give Ground Before Fierce Onslaughts

Zurich, Oct. 30.—The seat of the Roumanian government has been moved from Bucharest to Jassy. It is reported in a dispatch received here today from a German source.

King Ferdinand and the members of his court as well as many Roumanian deputies are already at Jassy.

The population of Bucharest is terrified by the frequent German air raids, and it is understood that this continued air activity led to the removal of the government, the dispatch said.

Jassy is 200 miles north of Bucharest and only a few miles from the Russian boundary.

In spite of storms and mud, hard fighting was again reported today from every theatre except the Italian.

While the Germans claim to have made further progress against the Russo-Roumanians it is evident that the Austro-German conquest of Roumania is again meeting with strong obstacles.

Southeast of Rotherthum pass the Germans have captured several strongly defended heights from the Russo-Roumanian troops.

Another flareup of fighting is imminent in Dobrudja, where Von Mackensen's forces are in touch with Russian infantry and cavalry.

For the time being interest has shifted from Verdun to the Somme front in France.

The Germans by powerful thrusts out from Peronne have recaptured Maissonette farm from the French.

Russian attacks against Austro-Germans in Volhynia and Serbia and French attacks against the German and Polish positions in the Balkans continues unceasingly.

VANCE M'CORMICK SEES LANDSLIDE TO PRESIDENT WILSON

DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN MANAGER IS ENTHUSIASTIC AT DEMOCRACY'S OUTLOOK.

(International News Service.)

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Vance C. McCormick, chairman of the democratic national committee, made a flying visit to Chicago and was in democratic headquarters today to get the "just-before-the-battle" situation, as his western aides see it.

After a conference with leaders, McCormick gave out a statement containing this:

"It looks like a landslide. Two weeks ago I returned to New York inspired by the conviction that the west was on fire for the president. I could smell the smoke then; now I can almost see the blaze."

New York, McCormick said, would roll up a majority for Wilson.

"I confidently expect the president to carry Connecticut, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and West Virginia, all of which Frank Hitchcock claims for the republicans."

Mr. McCormick will return to the east late today.

M'KEAND SERVICE LIVE WIRE MEN HERE TO ORGANIZE COMMERCE BOARD

JOSEPH B. BABB AND EDWIN L. QUARLES ARRIVED THIS MORNING.

PLAN FOR A QUICK CAMPAIGN

BUT WILE PUT IN TEN DAYS IN LAYING FOUNDATION FOR MEMBERSHIP CANVASS.

Joseph B. Babb, for many years secretary of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce, and Edwin L. Quarles, live wire man of the McKeand Service Company of Indianapolis, Ind., arrived here this morning for the purpose of completing the organization of the Albany Board of Commerce. They were employed for this work by the directors of the commerce board, with whom they will hold their first conference tonight. They expect to be here for two weeks.

Mr. Babb is already well known to all Alabamians. His successful administration of the affairs of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce attracted wide attention at the time, and resulted in his being drafted by the McKeand Service four years ago. He is a newspaper man of experience, and was formerly managing editor of the Birmingham News. He is also a gifted and eloquent speaker, and at one time represented Shelby county in the Tennessee legislature.

Mr. Quarles was sent here at the special request of the Board of Commerce. His recent work in building a big membership for the commercial organization at Lexington, Ky., attracted the attention of Frank Jones, former local resident, and it was at the suggestion of Mr. Jones that the McKeand Service Company was engaged for the task of organizing the local body.

"Our campaign will be sharp and decisive," said Mr. Quarles this morning. "Most of the time we are here will be given to the preliminaries of organization—to laying the foundation. Then we will put on a three days' membership campaign."

The McKeand Service has successfully organized 92 commercial organizations in various parts of the United States.

LONDON SANCTIONS $12,000,000 SALE

THE HERALD ADMITS THE ELECTION MUST BE BOUGHT.

The New York Herald, the Hughes organ which is furnishing an interesting sidelight on the political stage by giving a foreboding forecast of the presidential campaign each Sunday, admits in its forecast of yesterday that the republicans must buy the election if they defeat Wilson.

Of course, the suave New York journal does not say this bluntly and in so many words, but it hints broadly in the concluding paragraph of its forecast that the employers of labor in the United States who favor Hughes will have to show their men that it is to their advantage to vote against Wilson. They are to be told that there may be no day at all in place of the eight-hour day if Wilson is elected. The protective tariff will be pointed to as the bulwark of the laboring people of America.

These words serve notice as plainly as it could be served on American labor as to what may be expected during this, the final week of the presidential campaign. The corruption and chicanery so extensively practiced by Mark Hanna and other republican bosses during the campaigns of 1896 and 1900 are to be repeated. The tattered little pink slips of paper bearing the information that the employee designated need not return to work Nov. 8 unless Hughes is elected may be expected to be distributed by the large corporations—the slips to be worded most diplomatically, of course. The democrats may expect the word to be passed down the line by some of the big corporations that a vote for Hughes is a vote for a continuation of the full dinner pail.

But, although the Daily does not hesitate to believe that this will be done because the Herald has told us so in such plain language, we really do not believe it will have the effect it once did. In the twenty years since 1896, when the election was stolen from Bryan by such tactics, there have been many changes. For one thing the intelligence of American labor is higher. The trade union movement has gained ground tremendously in that period. Laboring men in many instances are union men and union men are disposed more than ever to stand on their rights and refuse to be bullied. The Herald's suggestion that such tactics are to be resorted to is an insult to the intelligence of American labor. Mark Hanna did it in 1896—and got away with it—but Penrose, Crane, Hitchcock and the men who propose to do it this time fall far short of the ability or diplomacy of that past grand master of politics who has long since been gathered to his fathers.

Intimidation of voters is not popular in these piping days of prosperity. Besides, it is too great a strain on the credulity of the workmen to say that our prosperity is only temporary when men like Henry Ford made $50,000,000 this year and thousands of other manufacturers are piling up wealth under this democratic administration.

LUIS CABRERA, TOO, IS FORCED TO BACK UP.

Disclosures of the past few days tend to indicate a conspiracy on the part of the republicans to use the Mexican situation for political purposes on the eve of the election. Secretary of War Baker nipped part of the scheme in the bud, when he issued a statement last week giving the information that Mexicans were planning for a Villa raid on some border town, with the object of throwing a scare into the border states and perhaps influencing other states not so adjacent to the international boundary. This would have been a reprehensible move, but one well within the range of possibilities.

Later developments have indicated that the republicans had still other Mexican moves up their sleeves. In a statement given out Saturday night by a news bureau that has heretofore been regarded as the semi-official news agency of the Carranza government in the United States, Luis Cabrera, member of the Carranza cabinet and head of the Mexican commission that has been meeting with the American commission at Atlantic City, is credited with making bitter complaint against the manner in which the Wilson administration had dealt with the Mexican problem. The charge was made that the United States had not been diligent in giving full assistance to the de facto authorities in suppressing the rebellion.

Previous news dispatches had intimated that not only Cabrera, but Carranza himself were to come into the limelight with statements criticizing the American handling of Mexican affairs. It was this premature information, perhaps, that put a crimp into the whole plot, for plot it undoubtedly was. Carranza must have been called to task from Washington, for his statement was never forthcoming. The Cabrera charge fell with a dull thud, for no other person than Cabrera himself has repudiated the alleged statement, and has made the news bureau that stood back of it the goat. This was a Rooseveltian move. It was an old trick of the Colonel's to burst into the press at times with statements intended to sound public opinion, and if they fell flat to throw the responsibility on the luckless newspaper man who had been given the interview. This individual was always added to the roster of the Assassins Club.

Having repudiated his alleged statement, Mr. Cabrera is back at the point where he started, and the booming that he shied in obedience to republican commands has returned and fractured his cranium.

TWO METHODIST MINISTERS WHO ARE BELOVED HERE.

The congregation of the Central Methodist church of Albany did the eminently fitting thing Sunday morning when it adopted resolutions praising in glowing terms the work here of Presiding Elder Ira Hawkins and Rev. R. L. Walston during the past four years.

These two men have made their mark on the hearts of Albany and North Alabama Methodists, and their work will remain long after the annual conference of Alabama Methodists has sent them to other fields.

As a presiding elder Mr. Hawkins has filled every qualification. He is a leader of no mean ability and an organizer of resource and energy.

As pastor of the Central Methodist church during the past four years Mr. Walston has made his impression upon the hearts, not only of his people, but of the lives of the people of other denominations. He is a man of broad experience, of deep love for humanity, of Christian humility, of innate justice and possessing a deep seated faith. As a minister he can stir the souls of men with the living truths of the religion of Christ.

The people of Albany and Decatur have nothing but good wishes for these two ministers. The Daily trusts the guiding hands of Alabama Methodism will reward them for their services in North Alabama with the best posts possible. We regret the rigid Methodist law that makes their early departure necessary.

COMMERCIAL ORGANIZATIONS HAVE BUT ONE OBJECT.

Commercial organizations, formed solely for the purpose of serving the entire town, have no other object. If politics is allowed to creep in, factionalism must inevitably result. And with factionalism, there comes division, and with division ruin. "The house that is divided among itself will fall," is a quotation that covers the ground fully. The Albany Board of Commerce, that is getting away to such a good start, should watch this point carefully. It should be hands off when political fights between local citizens are being staged.

Right alongside of our contribution to foreign missions we put our contribution to the Wilson fund. Carry the gospel of democracy to the "heathens" of the middle west.

SYRIAN TO SPEAK.

Rev. James H. Nicol, of Tripoli, Syria, will give an address at Westminster Presbyterian church tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Nicol is one of the strongest men obtainable from the mission field. He is an earnest, pleasing and convincing speaker, and all who hear him will greatly profit by his message. Those who miss him will miss a great opportunity. The public is cordially invited to come and hear Mr. Nicol.

SENATOR WEBB AT R. R. Y. M. C. A.

scrutiny. "Now, Elijah of Ramah Giliad was a pretty good old hill-billy, and his force of character was so great he revolutionized the world. He stood against idolatry and in favor of one God, until Israel never gave up the idea of the true God. But when the wicked King Ahab once confronted him and wanted to know if he, the prophet, was not the one that was troubling Israel, Elijah said in effect, 'you are another.' It wasn't an elegant way to answer." For this, the Senator's description of Elijah, his audience had the sense of humor and laughed heartily at his thrust at the imperfections of the prophet. But the speaker was not seeking a laugh, he was eliminating other men in order that the man, Jesus Christ, might be given the primacy in the minds and lives of all as the one true measure of value.

Opening Exercises.

Otto Fisher, of Decatur, with Mrs. H. O. Troup at the piano, led the opening hymns, and after prayer by T. M. Dix, Secretary S. A. Randle announced the roster of Y. M. C. A. speakers from now until the Christmas holidays, which includes a number of distinguished men. The Bible reading was given by Prof. J. T. Carter, from the twelfth chapter of Romans.

John Patterson, chairman of the board of management of the Y. M. C. A., presided over the meeting, and introduced Mayor Payne, who in turn, presented Senator Webb. Mr. Payne seemed to know the distinguished visitor's place, for he named him as one of "the great educators of the world." He knew the Senator's attitude toward life evidently, when he said Mr. Webb was much prouder of his work "as a maker of men out of boys than of his political honors."

The meeting closed with an earnest prayer by Rev. R. L. Walston, and the singing of the hymn, "Blessed Be the Ties That Bind."

Parts From Senator Webb's Address.

Senator Webb in opening was appreciably moved by the kind introduction of Mayor Payne. As a basis, it was shown that the measure of anything was the number of times a given unit would contain another unit of the same kind. Length must be measured by length, etc.; value must be measured by value; character by character. In speaking of the unreliability of all measures of value, the cubit, the foot, the hand high measure of horses, the Troy weight for gold, the yard stick, and dry and liquid measure were shown to be very important. It was shown that the United States to this good day has no unit of measure for length.

"But," said the speaker, "if President Wilson were to get after congress I think he could make that body pass on a measure for length, breadth and thickness." This sentiment was vigorously cheered.

In speaking of the free silver, the 16 to 1 proposition of 1896 as presented by Mr. Bryan and others, the speaker said it would have been a mistake to have overthrown the gold standard. In this connection his exact words were: "See how near we came adopting the wrong measure of value as to money in 1896."

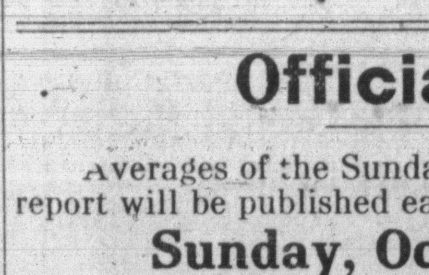

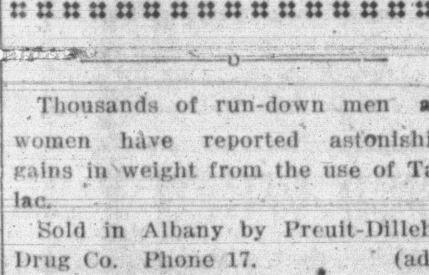

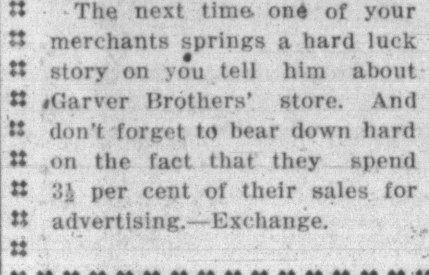

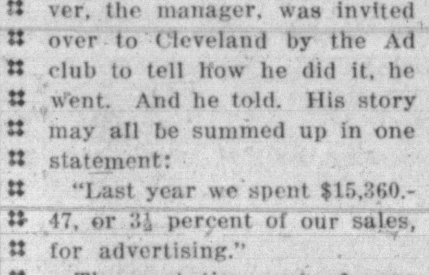

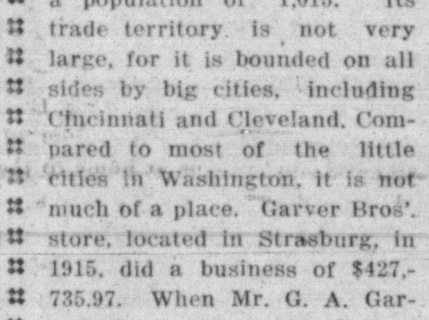

Historical Reminiscence.

The speaker said that when he was a boy, people used a lot of different kinds of coins. He said people at the old grist mill used to shave the value of a Spanish coin if the pillars engraved on the coin did not show plainly. The miller, when he wanted to take in a coin of this kind, would take off 20 cents of the value, saying he could not see the pillars, but when he wished to pass the coin on he would say, "Why anybody can see those pillars, they are as plain as day."

"To measure character it requires a unit of the same kind," said the speaker near the close. Then he went on and showed many great characters as they had appeared in history, but all of them were faulty measures of value.

"And now my friends," concluded the venerable educator—who must be well into the seventies—"truth alone is the measure of value. What is truth? Christ said He is the truth, and indeed He is. He is the truth and the life. I talked this morning in the Sunday school with a man, and I have been thinking all day about what he said. He said he had read the New Testament 23 times and was now reading it again. The man who puts his mind on Christ and keeps it there will grow to be like-minded with Him. If we will only have Him as our ideal, how much better it will be for this and all communities. And may I tell you that our Father in Heaven rates moral power above physical force under all conditions and circumstances. 'One shall chase 1,000 and two shall put 10,000 to flight.' My young friends, I present to you in a school teacherly way, the only accurate, the only true measure of value, is our Savior, Jesus Christ."

been compelled to give ground, says an official dispatch from Bucharest today.

In the lower Carpathians in the sector of Dorna Wetra, the Germans renewed their tremendous exertions to cut through between the Russian and Roumanian armies, but Petrograd reports that this movement has been checked.

The most decisive success won by the Russo-Roumanian forces was south of Vulcan pass and Djiul valley, where the Bavarian Alpine troops were defeated and the Russo-Roumanians captured about 1,000 prisoners, many machine guns and two batteries of cannon.

BERLIN ANNOUNCES DEATH OF CAPT. BOELKE, AVIATOR (International News Service).
Berlin, Oct. 30.—The war office this afternoon announced the death of Capt. Boelke, the famous German military aviator.

Rev. Harry Walden Called By Death

EPISCOPAL MINISTER SUCCEUMS AFTER ILLNESS OF MANY MONTHS HERE.

Rev. Harry Walden, aged 44 years, son of Capt. Dan Walden, died Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of his father on West Moulton street, after an illness of many months.

The funeral of Mr. Walden, who was an Episcopal minister, was held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from St. John's Episcopal church, and the interment followed at City cemetery. The service was conducted by Dr. J. J. Cornish, rector of St. John's church, assisted by Rev. Gamble of Huntsville, and Rev. Gamble, of Selma. The funeral services were largely attended because of the great popularity and prominence of Mr. Walden.

Mr. Walden was educated at the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn. He was the rector of several Episcopal churches in Alabama before he was stricken with illness. His last charge was at Eutaw, Ala. He left a wide circle of friends throughout the state.

THANKS, MAJOR!

MAY YOU PROSPER.
This year's crop of sweet potatoes in Morgan county keeps it, as usual, at the head of the column. And though this country has a number of expert growers of the toothsome, the prize this year must be handed Major J. T. Williamson. A big, fine lot was presented this office by the genial Major and we are duly appreciative of his thoughtfulness.

THOUGHT.

What makes even your town lots sell so high? Nothing in the world but their proximity to human intelligence, skill and efficiency, and they are valuable just in proportion to the degree of this intelligence, skill and efficiency. Suppose I could replace the population of Birmingham or Montgomery with the population of one of our most backward and illiterate mountain counties, guaranteeing that it would permanently remain in the same condition of illiteracy, ignorance and unprogressiveness, and preventing any business enterprise from leaving before night the value of every foot of land in these cities would be cut in half; the value of all the bank stock, of every mercantile corporation, of every lawyer's talent, etc.—all because of the decreased efficiency of the average inhabitant of the town—Poe.

ATTEND AND HELP A WORTHY CAUSE.

Harvest week celebration will begin on Tuesday, November 7, and continue during the remainder of the week, at the B. L. Malone building on Second avenue, under the auspices of the Women's Clubs of Albany and Decatur, and the ladies of the Benevolent Society, for the benefit of the Benevolent hospital.

During the week chicken and oyster suppers will be given, special music to be rendered by the best talent of our cities; card games, enjoyed, all of which, with other attractions, promise a series of most delightful occasions.

Every evening during the series, in an unique art gallery, which will be open to the public on the second floor, a physician will perform an operation.

For the series, Mr. Malone will generously give the use of his building, which will be made comfortable for all attending, and the purpose for which these entertainments are to be given warrant a large attendance throughout the week.

The week's festivities will open on Tuesday, Nov. 7, with an oyster supper, service to begin at 5:30. On Thursday evening the Music Study club will give several most popular choruses from grand operas, and some of the most gifted singers will render solos.

On Wednesday a chicken supper will be given. On Friday afternoon the Saturday club will play rook, when the children will enjoy the game and on Friday evening the "grown-ups" will indulge. Get ready to attend a series of entertainments that will be conducted by the ladies of our cities for the benefit of an institution that they have labored so faithfully for twenty years to establish for you and yours in the name of humanity. Patronize these entertainments liberally, for they are given that those who are ill and suffering may be relieved.

On election night coffee and sandwiches will be served until returns are in.

BROOKS-TODD.

The following announcement was received by friends in these cities this morning:

Mr. and Mrs. William Hayden Brooks announce the marriage of their daughter
Blanche Neone
and
Mr. Walter Harris Todd
on Saturday, October twenty-eighth nineteen hundred and sixteen Baltimore, Maryland.

At Home
after the fifteenth of November
314 Sherman Street
Albany, Alabama.

Miss Brooks needs no introduction to the community, for she has long since recognized her sterling worth. She is one of the most successful teachers in the Sunday school of the Central Baptist church, and Mr. Todd is to be congratulated. The groom is superintendent of stores for the L. & N. shops at Albany. Mr. and Mrs. Todd will visit the cities of the East before their return.

BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

A very important meeting of the Ladies' Benevolent Society will be held at the Morgan County Bank on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The members are urged to be present, as all plans must be perfected looking toward Harvest Week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wyatt have returned from a nuptial trip and are at home with Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Wyatt.

The Age-Herald of Sunday contained a front page cut of the "prominent figures at the Farm Loan Board hearing," among them being Mrs. Wallace Edmundson of Albany, who is always greatly interested in whatever benefits her state and county.

GEO. HARTUNG, JR.'S BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY.

Mrs. Geo. Hartung entertained about 30 little folks Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock, at her home on Sixth avenue, south, in compliment to her youngest son, Geo. Hartung, Jr.'s, tenth birthday anniversary. Numerous games, contests, etc., dear to the child heart were enjoyed until late in the afternoon, when the pretty dining room was thrown open. It presented a charming picture in red and green, salvia and ferns being used in the decorations. The room was darkened and red and green candles lent their softly glowing light. A Jack-o'-lantern in the center of the table gave an idea of the approaching Hallowe'en. Ices, cake, fruits and candies were served. Mrs. Hartung was assisted by Mrs. Fred Hartung, Mrs. H. L. Turner and the Misses Vivian Maness and Louise Hartung.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Poynter, who have occupied the Phinley apartment, will be at home to their friends in the Petty-Thompson apartments after the first.

Mrs. Frank H. Stahlman, of Nashville, is the guest of her father, S. T. Wert, in Decatur.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. McNeill and Mr. and Mrs. E. Lyons motored to Birmingham Sunday to be absent until Tuesday.

Mrs. Thos. Bowles left Saturday for Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Edwards and children were guests of friends and relatives here recently.

Grandmother Redding is visiting relatives in South Albany.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nebrige have named their young son Herman Albert.

Mrs. Hoover, of Huntsville, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Yarbrough.

Mr. and Mrs. Browning and daughter, Miss Bernice, have moved to Birmingham.

From the Huntsville Mercury—Miss Brooxie Gibson, of Decatur, came to Huntsville Friday to attend the fair ball and the circus. Miss Mary Lee Skeggs, of Decatur, was an attractive guest at the fair ball Friday night; she was with Mrs. T. W. Pratt. Miss Cayce returned from Decatur last night where she spent the day. S. H. Malone, of Decatur, was in the city yesterday among friends.

Misses Julia Mae and Josephine Penney are the attractive guests of Mrs. Lamar Penney.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Troup left today for Birmingham, where they will visit their son and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. N. A. Barrett, of East Lake, and will attend the sessions of the North Alabama conference at Bessemer.

Miss Helen Wallace returned to Courtland Saturday and in a few weeks she will accompany her aunt, Mrs. T. Burke, to Roanoke, Va., to be her house guest until about holiday time.

Rain or Shine Circus Will Come

A big holiday event is in store for the citizens of Albany-Decatur on Thursday, November 2. On this day and date, the famous Sun Brothers' Quarter of a Century Old Tented Exhibition and Big Trained Wild Animal Tournay will pitch its tents and give two of their splendid performances. This is the same show that has always maintained an opposition to any semblance of graft about their shows or to trail in the wake of it. Always conducted in the highest manner and on the most respectable plane it is always a welcome visitor on each succeeding visit to the various towns and cities. In plain words, it can invariably always "come back." This season the show offers many new attractions, noticeably among them being Herr Klotz's wonderful tango and pantomimic elephants in the greatest trained animal act ever offered for review in America. The exhibition of beautiful high school horses; the new clown college; the Panama Wild Beast Exhibit; the new military bands, three in number and hosts of other attractions. Indications point to a large crowd coming to town to attend the show. Performance will be given rain or shine.

Why use a rubber stamp on your Albany stationery when you can get attractive new stationery correctly printed by the Albany-Decatur Daily Job Department?

TWO OF THE SMALLER HATS

Two of the smaller hats are shown in the illustration above. These shapes or others very like them, are made of felt and velours as well as velvet. The hat at the top has a small mushroom brim and a bell crown. The crown is draped with velvet. A collar and bow of ribbon finishes it. The little shape below it is one of those on which a veil is used as an essential part of the trimming. The veil of chiffon falls from a collar of narrow ribbon finished with an ornament.

THE STAY AT HOMES.

(We being the crack drill troop of the regiment had to put up a fancy drill for Brigade Commander when the Mexican situation was at fever heat, and everyone thought more of ball ammunition than white collars.)

Out in dear old Texas where the sun is boiling hot. We go around the "Bull Ring" at a gallop and a trot. Eating dust and sweating, dreaming of a shady spot. And we've got to drill for Parker in the morning.

Riding to the music of Heels Down and left leg back. Hour after hour trying to make your horse "two track." Never get a chance to at the Greasers take a whack. And we've got to drill for Parker in the morning.

Militiamen, artillerymen and dough-boys by the score. All give us the Ha-Ha from the river's other shore. But we keep right on a drilling, and it makes us very sore. To have to drill for Parker in the morning.

I dreamed last night that war had come and shells were falling thick.

We stood before the cannon and we never hit a lick. The captain yelled, "white collars, boys, and get them on damn quick."

For we've got to drill for Parker in the morning.

BROTHER HERE IN QUEST OF SLAYER OF RAYMOND HILL

FIFTY DOLLARS REWARD OFFERED FOR APPREHENSION OF ROBT. UNDERWOOD.

Believing that Robt. Underwood, slayer of Raymond Hill, came into the Twin Cities last night, Z. J. Hill, brother of the dead man, arrived here this morning hot on his trail. Mr. Hill offered a reward of $50 for the apprehension of Underwood, who escaped from the Marshall county jail on Oct. 11, where he was being held on the charge of murder.

Underwood, who has been referred to in news dispatches as a boy of 17, is in reality 22 years of age, according to Mr. Hill, who furnished the Daily the following description of the fugitive: Five feet, 6 inches in height; weight, 145 pounds; age, 22 years; reticent in conversation, and with a furtive glance; light hair and freckled face; has a whining voice.

Raymond Hill, who was killed by Underwood, was a former resident of Albany, and is a brother-in-law of Ed Rhinehardt, 521 Seventh avenue, west.

High Trims Greene Reserves By Twelve To Six Score

TURNER AND STINSON MAKE LONG DASHES AND CARRY BALL ACROSS.

(BY ELLIS LOVELESS.)

Albany high and Greene reserves of Athens clashed on the local field Saturday in one of the prettiest football scraps seen here in many seasons. Score: Albany 12, Greene 6.

The two teams were about evenly matched in weight and in the back fields, but Albany's line stood head and shoulders above that of Greene, although the work of the two ends and, incidentally two brothers, Grisham and E. Grisham, was far above the average of high school players.

As was the case last week, Harris was in every play, his dodging and twisting runs being pulled for gains on every attempt.

Albany's scores came in the second quarter as the result of intercepted forward passes by Turner, who made a thirty-five yard dash across the goal line, and by Stinson, who made a splendid run for sixty yards, shaking off all interference and scoring the last touchdown of the game in a clear field.

Stinson's runs were the sensation of the game. He skirted around one end; then the other, and his terrific plunging tore the thin line of the opposition as if it had been hit by a cyclone. The first goal was missed by an unlucky twist of the oval which sent it against the bars. The second was a very weak attempt and passed to the left of its mark.

The visitors' touchdown came in the second quarter after E. Grisham had received a perfect pass, going thirty yards before being stopped on Albany's twenty-yard line. Here the Tigers made a gallant stand, but the continued ramming of the visiting backs carried the pig skin to Albany's two-yard line, where E. Yarbrough bucked it across. The kick out was missed, thereby eliminating the right to try for goal.

Greene came back strong in the second half and kept the ball away from their goal until the referee blew the whistle, ending the battle with the play on the Tigers' thirty-yard line.

AMUSEMENTS

PLEASING PEOPLE AT THE MASONIC THIS WEEK.

Regarding Herman Lewis and his Virginia Beauties which play the Masonic this week, the Danville Register says:

"Herman Lewis and his Virginia Beauties opened their week's engagement at the Majestic yesterday before one of the largest audiences that has been present to witness a vaudeville show for some time. The company is new in this city. It came here highly recommended and proved its merits at the first performance.

"The feature of the show is the 'Old Dominion Quartet,' which is splendid. Appreciation was shown by the constant applause of the audience, which brought them back many times.

"Laughing Lester Richards is the blackface comedian. Richards is one of those geniuses whose very appearance creates a laughing epidemic of the most virulent type and keeps it spreading like a house afire. He is a comedian whose originality and ability has placed him on top with the best vaudeville entertainers of the day and his appearance should prove a big advent at this house.

"The girls are dainty. Their costumes are new and up-to-date. Something new in the vaudeville wardrobe.

"In the last words it is well to say that the company is the best that has been here for a long time. It is far better than the average show on this circuit.

"THE LILAC DOMINO."

Andreas Dippel will present "The Lilac Domino," the great three-act musical success of beauty, fun and fashion by Charles Cuvillier, at the Masonic theatre Wednesday, Nov. 8.

This is the greatest musical success of many seasons and is said to be an attraction even in grand opera circles, and a wealth of scenic paraphernalia, a chorus of twenty delightful girls who sing and dance with all the charm and vivacity of happy youth, in costumes of almost regal magnificence and up-to-the-minute in style. Its enchanting score ripples and sways and floats along in a variety of tempos but always with superlative melodic charm. A fortune has been expended in scenic effects. Art critics have especially commented upon the sunset scene over the Mediterranean sea which is shown as a background for the dancant of the second act.

Submarine Controversy Again Opened by U. S.

Capt. Wesley Frost, the United States consul at Queenstown, reported to the American embassy here that the Marina was sunk without warning. He did not give the source of his information.

GERMAN U-BOAT SHELLS AMERICANS IN LIFEBOAT.

(International News Service.) Washington, Oct. 30.—Consul Frost this afternoon reported from Queenstown that a German submarine had shelled American citizens in life boats after they had abandoned the British freighter Rowanmore under orders in the Atlantic on Oct. 26. No loss of life is reported.

The Rowanmore, from Baltimore to Liverpool, had on board seven Americans. She was shelled when she attempted to escape from the submarine, but later stopped her engines and the crew took to the boats.

Consul Frost said the life boats then were shelled by the submarine, an act which in the past has been held by this government to be in violation of international law.

The Americans were George Murphy and Albert Essler, of Brooklyn, and the Filipinos.
